

Declaration of Estimated Tax for Individuals General Information

2009

SPEC CODE – This space on the first page of the tax return is to be used only when specifically instructed by the Department of Revenue. Otherwise, leave blank.

The Louisiana Income Tax Law requires that the tax be paid currently with respect to anticipated income on which no tax is withheld at source. Rents, royalties, dividends, interest, business profits, and professional fees are examples of income that must be included in computing your declaration of estimated individual income tax. Form IT-540ES is provided for making your declaration and computing the tax on such estimated individual income.

You should be able to make a proper determination of your liability for filing a declaration, and acquaint yourself with related payment and filing schedules, by the following digest of Louisiana income tax requirements for the declaration of estimated income:

1. Who must make a declaration – Residents and Nonresidents must make a declaration of estimated income tax if the estimated Louisiana income tax after credits and taxes withheld can reasonably be expected to exceed $1,000.00 ($2,000.00 in the case of a joint declaration of husband and wife).

Nonresidents will enter on Line 1 of the worksheet the amount of their Louisiana adjusted gross income.

2. When and where to file a declaration – Your declaration must be filed on or before April 15, 2009, or on such later dates as specified in instructions 5, 6, and 7 of this general information. The voucher should be mailed to the Department of Revenue, P. O. Box 91007, Baton Rouge, Louisiana 70821-9007, or to any regional office of the Department.

3. Payment of estimated tax – You may pay estimated individual income tax in full with the declaration, or in equal installments, on or before April 15, 2009, June 15, 2009, September 15, 2009, and January 15, 2010. Payment of the amount entered on the declaration voucher must be made when the declaration is filed. A Form IT-540ES voucher for Louisiana estimated individual income taxes should not be filed if payment is made by EFT, credit card, or an electronic payment via the Department's website. Make payments to: Department of Revenue. Do not send cash.

NOTE: Reminder notices for estimated individual income tax installments will not be sent to you. Please use the enclosed Form IT-540ES vouchers when paying estimated individual income taxes by check.

4. Joint declaration – A husband and wife should file a joint declaration with the following exceptions: No joint declaration may be made if the husband and wife are separated under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance, or if they have different taxable years. If a joint declaration is made, a joint return should be filed for the taxable year. However, if returns are filed separately, the estimated tax for such year may be treated as the estimated tax of either the husband or the wife, or may be divided between them in such a manner as they may agree.

5. Farmers – If at least two-thirds of your gross income is from farming, you may file the declaration on or before January 15, 2010, instead of April 15, 2009. If you wait until January 15, 2010, you must pay the entire amount of the estimated tax. However, if you file your tax return on or before March 1, 2010, and pay the total tax at that time, you need not file a declaration for 2009.

6. Fiscal year – If you file your income tax return on a fiscal year basis, the dates for filing the declaration and paying estimated tax will be the 15th day of the fourth, sixth, and ninth months of your fiscal year, and the 15th day of the first month following the close of your fiscal year.

7. Changes in income or exemption – Even though your situation on April 15 is such that you are not required to file a declaration at that time, your expected income or exemptions may change so that you will become liable for filing a declaration later. In such cases, the time for filing is as follows: June 15, if the change occurs after April 1 and before June 2; September 15, if the change occurs after June 1 and before September 2; January 15, 2010, if the change occurs after September 1. The estimated tax may be paid in equal installments on the remaining payment dates.

If you report income on a fiscal year basis, there should be substituted for the months specified, the fourth, sixth, or ninth month of the current year, or the first month of the succeeding taxable year.

If your 2009 individual income tax return is filed and paid by January 31, 2010, (March 1, 2010 for farmers), you need not:

- file any required amended declaration, or original declaration that would be due for the first time on January 15, 2010, or
- pay the last installment of estimated tax on or before January 15, 2010.

NOTE: The January 15, 2010, filing of a declaration, amended declaration, the payment of the last installment, or the filing of an income tax return by January 31, 2010, will not relieve you of the additional penalty if you failed to pay the estimated income tax that was due earlier in your tax year.

8. Amended declaration – If additional estimated income tax is due over the amount of prior payments and credits, subsequent payments are to be computed in the following manner: The total amount of prior payments and credits are subtracted from the new estimated tax and the balance is divided by the remaining quarters in the taxable year.

9. Penalty for failure to pay estimated income tax – The following penalty is imposed by law for the underpayment of any installment of estimated income tax: 12 percent per year for the period of underpayment on the difference between the installment payment made and 90 percent (66 ²/₃ percent in the case of farmers) of the installment due on the basis of the tax for the year. The penalty for any underpayment of any installment may be assessed unless the total amount of all payments of estimated tax made on or before the last dates prescribed for the payments of such installments equals or exceeds whichever of the following is lesser:

- The amount that would have been required to be paid on or before such date if the estimated tax were whichever of the following is least –
 - The tax shown on your return for the previous year (if your return for such year indicated a tax liability and covered a tax year of 12 months), or
 - A tax computed by using the previous year's income with the current year's rates and exemptions, or
 - Ninety percent (66 ²/₃ percent in the case of farmers) of tax computed by projecting to the end of the year the income received from the beginning of the year up to the beginning of the month of the installment payment.
- An amount equal to 90 percent of the tax computed at the rates applicable to the tax year, on the basis of the actual taxable income for the months in the tax year ending before the month in which the installments are required to be paid.

In the event that the date on which returns shall be filed falls on Saturday, Sunday, or a legal holiday, the return shall be made and filed on the next business day.
